

Seven minutes of setup, then this toolkit runs your admin for you. Work through it in order — each document feeds the next one.

THE ORDER THAT WORKS

1 1 • Set your price first

Open the

Pricing Calculator

and fill in your real hours and costs. Every other document depends on knowing your number. Do not skip this one.

2 2 • Put the intake form somewhere public

Link the

Client Intake Form

in your bio, your email signature, and your website. It answers budget, timeline and scope before you ever get on a call.

3 3 • Send the proposal within 24 hours

Momentum closes deals. Use the

Client Proposal

while the conversation is still warm, with three tiers so the question becomes which one rather than whether.

4 4 • Contract and deposit together

Send the

Service Contract

and the deposit invoice in the same email. Work starts when both come back — never before.

5 5 • Run the onboarding checklist

The

Client Onboarding Checklist

is what makes a one-person business feel established. Tick every box, every client.

6 6 • Invoice the same day you deliver

Use the

Invoice Template

. Late invoices become late payments.

7 7 • Log it

Add the payment to the

Income & Expense Tracker

the day it lands, and plan next month in the

Content Planner

WHAT IS INSIDE

FILE	FORMAT	USE IT WHEN
Pricing Calculator	Spreadsheet	Setting or raising your rates
Client Intake Form	PDF	Before a discovery call
Client Proposal	PDF	After the call, within 24 hours
Service Contract	PDF	Before any work begins
Onboarding Checklist	PDF	The first week of every project
Invoice Template	PDF	Deposit, and again on delivery
Income & Expense Tracker	Spreadsheet	Every payment, every month
Content Planner	PDF	Once a month, in one sitting

Make it yours

Every PDF is supplied in A4 and US Letter. Replace the placeholder business name in the header, keep the structure, and change the wording wherever it does not sound like you — a document your client can tell you wrote is worth more than a perfect one you copied.

One honest note about the contract

The Service Contract is a plain-language starting point drafted for common freelance and small-service work. It is not legal advice and it is not tailored to your country or your situation. For high-value work, or anywhere the stakes are serious, have a qualified lawyer in your jurisdiction review it before you use it.
